

THE LEONE SCHMIDT LOCAL HISTORY COLLECTION

All items
Society
for sale from the

Warrenville Historical
35530 Second Street
PO Box 311
Warrenville, IL 60555

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF WARRENVILLE

2003 REPRINT, 224 pages, ill. (1975 first printing)
LC catalogue 75-32857, $19.00 jacketed cloth

This first published history of DuPage County's second oldest settlement is packed with authenticated facts gathered over a 15-year period and put together in a well-organized, workmanlike manner. A 16-page section of Old Settler biographical data is included.

IN AND AROUND HISTORIC WARRENVILLE

1982, 152 pages, ill., fold-out 1858 map
LC catalogue 82-73570, $15.00 jacketed cloth

A site-oriented history of a 150-year-old community, grouped by neighborhoods, its unpublished, documented stories breathe life into each venerable structure and historic site. Self-guided tours are made easy with locator maps introducing each section.

FOR THE HONOR OF OUR FLAG: THE LIFE OF GENERAL MASON BRAYMAN

2004, 263 pages, ill., map
ISBN 0976298503, $29.00 jacketed cloth

Characterized by a 19th Century biographer as “representative of the Spirit which won the victory in the Rebellion,” Brayman was a passionate, unabashed patriot of diverse talents: an accomplished writer and editor, a distinguished attorney, a skilled negotiator in the Mormon controversy, a player in shaping the fledgling Prairie state of Illinois, a pioneer in Midwest railroading, and governor of the territory of Idaho. Tracing his remarkable career as it crossed paths with leading figures of the 19th Century, the book has “cleverly woven Brayman’s life into the broader fabric of American history.” It has been recommended as a great biography, far beyond the ho-hum variety.

WHEN THE DEMOCRATS RULED DUPAGE

1989 102 pages, ill., maps
LC catalogue 89-92110, $5.00 paper

This is the story of DuPage County, from its struggle to secede from Cook County until the roll of the Civil War drums. The central player is the charismatic Capt. Joseph Naper—ship navigator turned land developer, then soldier and political leader – with most of the action taking place in his bailiwick. The illustrations of original documents reposing in the Warrenville Historical Society Museum’s collections greatly enhance this work.

COME FLY TO THE PRAIRIE

1968, 90 pages, ill., maps
LC catalogue 68-58440, cloth (out of print)
Available in paperback only $10.00

The experiences of the Daniel Warren family members who emigrated from New York to Illinois and the pioneers whose paths they crossed are narrated in 16 charming sketches. Together they reveal a picture of the tumultuous year 1832-1844, and in a sense become a skeleton history of Chicago and its hinterlands to the west in that era.

ASK THE HISTORIAN

1994, 38 pages, $3.00 paper

Reprint of a column series appearing in the Warrenville Digest in 1993, featuring selected questions asked of City Historian Leone Schmidt.

MEMORABLE WARRENVILLE WOMEN

1999, 14 pages, ill., $2.00 paper

Reprint of a 1996 Warrenville Post monthly series featuring sketches of twelve women achievers from Warrenville’s past, as recollected by City Historian Leone Schmidt.

These Pamphlets
Also Available